

If the commercial sector can or will not set a standard that they can all agree on, please provide one so we can be assured that what we purchase now will still work next year. Drag the industry kicking and screaming into the 21st century if you must but please facilitate a standard that is standard for all.